- 2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)
 - 1. Reference is made to the following document:

D1: DE 100 32 440 A1 (W. SCHLAFHORST AG & CO) 17 January 2002

- 2. Document D1 is considered to be the prior art closest to the subject matter of claim 1. It discloses (the references between parentheses relate to said document):
 - a rotor shaft of a spinning rotor having an annular magnetic bearing component (8), which is protected from the centrifugal force effective during the spinning process by a ring liner (10), for radially and axially supporting the rotor shaft, wherein the rotatable magnetic bearing component (8) interacts with a stationary magnetic bearing component (19).
- 2.1 The subject matter of claim 1 therefore differs from the known D1 in that the magnetic bearing component that is connected to the rotor shaft (4) of the spinning rotor (3) is configured as a slotted permanent magnet ring (32, 42), thereby ensuring the deformability required for fitting a ring liner (6, 7).

Accordingly, the subject matter of claim 1 of the Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement application is novel within the meaning of PCT $Article\ 33(2)$.

- 2.2 The problem addressed by the present invention can be considered that of having to improve or simplify the mounting of the magnetic bearing component.
- 2.3 The solution to this problem that is proposed in the characterizing part of claim 1 of the application is not suggested by any of the documents cited in the search report, because they do not suggest the possibilities of a slotted permanent magnet ring.

The solution therefore involves an inventive step (PCT Article 33(3)).

3. Claims 2-5 are dependent on claim 1 and therefore likewise meet the PCT requirements for novelty and inventive step.
